REPUBLICANS PLAN TO STRIP TRUMAN OF WARTIME POWERS

BY SANDOR S. KLEIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Republican leadership plans to move without delay to strip President Truman of much of his emergency powers but it probably will take a second look at proposals for an early congressional declaration formally ending the state of war.

Hasty action to terminate the state of hostilities, it was pointed out today, might tend to cripple this country's hand at a time when the international situation is troubled and uncertain.

An official declaration ending the war would mean the automatic expiration six months thereafter of most of the emergency measures born in wartime. These deal with such vital matters as espionage, plant seizures, fiscal problems such as consumer-credit controls, and Army service. Draftees would be eligible for demobilization within six months after such a declaration.

A leading advocate of a swift termination of hostilities is Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, one of the most influential Republicans in the Senate. In a speech before the Republican state convention at Columbus, O., on Sept. 11, Taft made it clear he wanted the GOP to waste no time when it got control of Congress to rip apart the great network of administrative controls built up by the Democratic regime.

"We propose first to abolish the war controls," he said. "By April 1, the OPA and price and wage control should be completely abolished and rent control for not to exceed one more year transferred to the housing administration."

The second war powers act (providing for rationing and priorities powers until April) should be allowed to expire. A resolution terminating hostilities should be promptly adopted."

The Truman administration, which started a decontrolling spree a few weeks before the election, may try to beat the Republicans out of the opportunity to bury all of OPA except for rent controls.

Dispatches from Washington said the administration is being encouraged by the budget bureau to start in earnest on the liquidation of the OPA, the civilian production of the OPA.

80TH CONGRESS IS EXPECTED TO OPPOSE LOANS

GOP Solons Reportedly In Favor Of Firm Stand Toward Russians

BY JOHN L. STEELE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Republican 80th Congress, it appeared certain today, will tighten American foreign loan policy, challenge the reciprocal trade program and support a firm stand toward Russia.

An examination of GOP voting records and speeches indicated the new congress will study closely any proposals for further large loans to foreign countries, particularly Russia.

The record also shows that powerful Republican senators and some house members have urged revision or elimination of the reciprocal trade agreement act, which authorizes the president to cut tariffs up to 50 per cent.

On one point, however, Mr. Truman had a promise of cooperation. The new congress, only a few hours after its election, was pledged by the men who will be its leaders to support a continued bi-partisan approach to world problems.

This appears to rule out any probability of a repetition of what happened after World War I when a Republican senate rejected a Democratic president's efforts to write peace and establish international peace machinery.

But this does not mean that Republicans will not feel free to vote changes in the administration of foreign policy, particularly in loans and tariffs.

A majority of GOP senators in the past have favored elimination of the reciprocal trade program, written by the late President Roosevelt and former secretary of state Cordell Hull. Only a year ago Republican members voted 16 to 14 against extension of the program's basic act.

OFFICERS STILL HUNTING MOTHER WHO IS MISSING

Search for Mrs. Raymond Hedges Swank, 39, mother of two minor sons, who disappeared Tuesday afternoon from her home at 420 South Washington street, was being continued Thursday by Police Chief William F. McCrady and deputies assigned by Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff.

Shortly before the woman dropped from sight, Chief McCrady disclosed, she mailed a letter to her two small sons, enclosing a check for $200 and telling them she was "going away for a while to rest."

A Greyhound bus driver told Deputy Sheriff Vern L. Pontious that a woman answering the description of Mrs. Swank boarded a Columbus bound bus Tuesday night. However, Chief McCrady spent several hours Wednesday at Columbus in futile hunt for the missing mother.

Mrs. Swank is 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 116 pounds, and at the time of her disappearance she wore a dark brown coat. A 14-year-old son recently suffered a hip fracture in a fall from his bicycle and he is now in a cast. A younger brother has not fully recovered from a recent appendectomy.

GOP Does Not Want Truman Out

BY JOSEPH MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Whatever anybody else may think about it, Republicans today viewed coldly a suggestion from Democratic and liberal sources that President Truman make it a GOP grand slam by turning over his job to a member of the new majority party.

Moreover, informed sources doubted the Republicans would undertake to do anything about the presidential succession law under which, as now written, the secretary of state would become president in the event Mr. Truman died or resigned.

Suggestions that President Truman bow out in view of GOP capture of house and senate control came from Sen. J. William Fulbright, D., Ark., and the new deal Chicago Sun. The Atlantic Constitution said the Democrats should give "very serious" consideration to Fulbright's proposal.

Proponents of a presidential switch felt that since a majority of voters has charged political sides, Mr. Truman should appoint a Republican secretary of state and then resign.

Republican National Chairman B. Carroll Reece's reaction was that it was "a matter between the President and his conscience." Republican leaders generally displayed no enthusiasm for the proposal.

As things stand, they feel sure of winning the presidency in 1948 for four full years.

Always in the past when an anti-administration party has taken control of Congress in an off year, it has gone on to win the ensuing presidential election.

The Republicans thus are inclined to let well enough alone. They argue, in passing, that there is no precedent for what Fulbright suggests.

In any event, there would be the question of who would pick Mr. Truman's successor. Republicans would not particularly like to have a Democrat choose a GOP president. And even if Mr. Truman asked for suggestions, there is no reason to believe the party leaders would like to make them now.

The risk of bitterness engendering intra-party disagreement would seem to be too great to take at a time when the Republicans are united in political victory.

Meanwhile, some observers wondered if President Truman might feel tempted to call a special session of Congress between now and Jan. 3 while he still has a Democratic house and senate.

This, too, seemed to belong to (Continued on Page Two)

United States Moves To Get Exclusive Control Of Pacific Islands

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 7.—The United States presented to the United Nations today a double-barreled program aimed at speeding formation of the UN trusteeship program and securing exclusive American control of the Japanese-mandated islands in the Pacific.

John Foster Dulles of the American delegation was ready to ask the general assembly's 51-member trusteeship committee to set up the UN trusteeship council immediately and shelve until next year its decision on a foggy section of the trusteeship program.

This maneuver apparently would give the U.S. a majority in the UN trusteeship committee, which would give each of the big five a sort of veto of every draft trusteeship agreement.

William Ulm Found Dead In Basement of His Home

William Tipton Ulm, 65, vice president and cashier of the First National bank, was found dead in the basement of his home at 531 North Court street, at 4:45 p. m. Wednesday by his wife, Mrs. Edith Black Ulm.

Mr. Ulm apparently had collapsed from a heart attack and had fallen to the floor. He had been carrying some ready-mixed concrete into the basement for repair work. Mrs. Ulm summoned a physician but Mr. Ulm was pronounced dead.

Dr. Lloyd Jonnes, Pickaway county coroner, was notified. The coroner was out of the city, Thursday, and his official verdict was not obtainable.

Mr. Ulm was born Oct. 25, 1881 at Williamsport, the son of Samuel M. Ulm and Sarah Eagleston Ulm. He was married Oct. 20, 1909 to Edith Black. Mr. Ulm was a graduate of the Williamsport High school and the Bliss Business College. He located in Circleville in 1919 and had previously been cashier of the Farmers National bank, Williamsport. Mr. Ulm was a member of the Methodist church, Circleville.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 7—Governor-elect Thomas J. Herbert will not be inaugurated until the second week of next year but speculation spread today over the selections he will make for key posts in the 1947-48 administration.

Former Congressman Dudley White, Norwalk newspaper publisher, was among those mentioned in connection with the assignment of jobs. White was a Republican candidate for the U. S. senatorial (short term) nomination but was defeated in the primaries.

White ran second in the four man primary race and was defeated by Kingsley A. Taft, who was elected short term senator in Tuesday's election.

Other names mentioned prominently included that of Dale Dunton of Columbus who served as first assistant attorney general under Herbert when the latter was attorney general.

Robert B. Bangham Wilmington, assistant state treasurer, is reported to be interested in state welfare directorship. Maury Koblenz, Columbus, also was mentioned for one of the key welfare department posts.

Earl Hart, Cleveland, who helped to direct the Herbert campaign and was previously secretary to supreme court justice Harold Burton when Burton was a senator, was mentioned as a possible choice for the new governor's secretary.

McDowell said ballots were cast by 147 of the 155 teachers in the county and that the four officers were selected from a field of 16 nominees. The president, vice president, recording secretary and treasurer, were elected on the basis of the highest vote received by them in the order named.

$5,300 SOUGHT FOR INJURIES IN AUTO CRASH

Judgment for $5,300 is asked in a damage suit filed Wednesday in Pickaway county common pleas court by Miss Lorina Thompson, 1332 West Broad street, Columbus, against Gaylord S. Hall, Jr., Route 2, Ashville.

The suit is an aftermath of the crash of two automobiles at midnight May 12, 1946 on U. S. Route 23, in Pickaway county near the boundary of Franklin county.

Miss Thompson claims she suffered severe injuries and she charges Hall with negligence and carelessness. Declaring that she was a passenger in an automobile driven south by Robert Downing and that the car driven south by Hall struck the Downing machine. Miss Thompson said the Downing car went through a guard rail, plunged down a steep embankment, and turned over in a field. ## Truman Plans Action For Good of Country'

BY MERRIMAN SMITH
UP White House Reporter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—President Truman, still silent on his party's political disaster and on proposals that he resign, planned today to spend the next two years following a simple formula—action for the good of the country.

The Russians reportedly want the big five powers to be considered "nations directly concerned" with every draft agreement presented to the UN—a definition which would give each of the big five a sort of veto of every draft trusteeship agreement.

The American maneuver to define a definition of this admittedly ambiguous section of the charter came on the heels of an even touching development—the publication of the United States proposed agreement giving this country a strategic trusteeship over the Marianas, Carolines and Marshall Islands in the Pacific, which were mandated to Japan after World War I, and non-mandated islands now under U. S. control, including Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

This maneuver apparently would give the U. S. a majority in the UN trusteeship committee, which would give each of the big five a sort of veto of every draft trusteeship agreement.

ate contests, the three seats having been held also by Democrats or, Democrat, and D. John Martens are between Herbert O'Connor, Democrat, and D. John Markey, Republican, Maryland; Sen.
Dennis Chavez, Democrat, and former Republican secretary of Bar Parish J. Hurley, in New Mexico; and Sen. Harley M. Kilgore, Democrat, and Thomas Sweeny, Republican in West Virginia.

The undecided house contest is in Utah where Walter K. Granger, Democratic incumbent, is opposed by David J. Wilson, Republican.
Wilson has a very slight lead and may possibly give the Republicans another new seat.

These undetermined contests would not change the election results either way. The Republicans have gained 12 senate seats for a minimum majority of three. They zoomed from 192 in the old house to 246 in the new, for a majority of 29.

Bills and vetoes are likely to fly during the next two years between those Republican majorities and the White House. The bitterest battles of the last two years of the Wilson administration were fought on foreign relations — on the effort of the World War I president to take the United States into the League of Nations. A Republican senate beat the league and the treaty of Versailles.

This time the United States has a considerable measure of bi-partisan foreign policy. Responsible and powerful Republicans are pledged to support it but there is a strong G.O.P. element in opposition.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., has been one of the architects of United States foreign policy, especially in its later patient-but-firm with Russia developments. It is likely that Vandenberg will be the new chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, succeeding Sen. Tom Connally, D. Tex., with whom he has served at meetings of the United Nations and the preliminary Paris peace conference. The change in congressional politics will not change the American representatives who have been seeking with the representatives of foreign nations to make the peace.

But foreigners may interpret the election as a vote of no confidence in the president, himself. In that event, his position in dealing with foreigners will be considerably weakened.

Major contest between a Republican congress and a Democratic White House, however, will come on domestic issues such as taxes, labor relations, government regulation of business and finance. Both sides will be establishing issues against the 1948 presidential elections. Among the Republicans, there are half a dozen or so who will be establishing their own issues against the 1948 Republican national convention.

There are at least three prime Republican presidential possibilities in the Senate: Vandenberg, whose strong point is foreign relations, and two senators from Ohio
— Robert A. Taft and John W.
Bricker.

The stand-out Republican right now because of his smashing re-election victory Tuesday is Gov.
Thomas E. Dewey of New York.
It remains to be seen whether the Senate, a governor's office or the sidelines can best serve a presidential hopeful.

Six other committee meetings crowded assembly delegates schedules today, while two full-dress plenary sessions were called for Friday to permit the formal acceptance of Sweden, Afghanistan and Iceland as new members and consideration of new items proposed for the current agenda.

The social, humanitarian and cultural committee—scene of a relief of the pitched battle between Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Soviet vice foreign minister Andrei A. Vishinsky over a proposed international refugee organization—took a day off from what promises to be a bitter series of meetings.

BRITISH SEES NO CHANGE IN U. S. FOREIGN POLICY

LONDON, Nov. 7—British newspapers commenting on the United States elections argued today that the results did not necessarily mean a change in American foreign policy.

Several editorials observed that Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was carrying out foreign policy with bipartisan support.

The Times said the results were "everywhere interpreted as a vote of censure of the present administration," and said of President Truman:

"There is nothing in his previous conduct of affairs to suggest that he will refuse to accommodate himself to the circumstances or stand uncompromisingly by the policies which he knows himself unable to enforce."

80TH CONGRESS IS EXPECTED TO OPPOSE LOANS

voted 18 to 17 against the $3,- 500,000,000 British loan. Some of those who voted for the loan said they did so only to strengthen

Britain as a future ally in the event of any trouble with Russia.

Republicans have charged that unfriendly influences were active in the state department and other government agencies. Sen. Kenneth H. Wherry, Neb., GOP whip, introduced a resolution in the 79th congress to investigate the department and is expected to push for its adoption next year.

With maximum time off for good behavior, the sentence would separate the green-eyed nurse from Frank Waters Jr. for at least nine months.

District Judge A. S. Henderson

yesterday ordered her to serve out the sentence in state prison at Carson City, denied a plea for a 20-day stay of execution and turned

Mrs. Waters over to Sheriff

Glen Jones for transportation to prison for a term of one to five years.

Most observers doubted that the GOP would want the presidency until 1948 no matter how it came to them. The next two years are likely to be a White House election, and getting control now could jeopardize Republican chances in

That proposal, in turn, was blocked by the house.

Although the president could hardly veto a succession bill along the lines of his own suggestion,

the Republicans were not expected to take advantage of this state of affairs.

were questioned about the likelihood of a special session doubted there would be any.

The possibility of presidential succession law reform was raised because Mr. Truman himself has suggested it and therefore could proposed that the house speaker be made next in line to the vice president—and the house speaker after Jan. 3 will be Rep. Joseph

W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts,

a Republican.

The Republicans fought the to the White House in 1945, because the speakership was held by a Democrat, Sam Rayburn of Texas.

COUNCIL WILL HEAR PASTOR'S DEMAND POWER

STEUBENVILLE, O. Nov. 7—Hundreds of citizens were expected to crowd into city council chambers here tonight as council met in special session to consider the demand of 12 pastors that they be given powers to clean up Steubenville vice and crime.

The clergymen asked council for authority to carry weapons and for other extraordinary powers because they charged "venal public officials close their eyes to organized vice."

Council was expected to act favorably on the demands which had the support of local service clubs and other groups.

Meanwhile gambling clubs and unauthorized liquor sales were reported closed down.

Mayor George W. Floto had no comment on the charges obviously aimed at him at his safety director Alfred H. Schaffer, and at Police Chief Ross Cunningham.

representatives and senators. It had predicted it would swing the decision this year in 100 close districts but fell far short.

Only 81 of the 188 house aspirants endorsed by Whitmyer's Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen were returned victorious. In senate races, only five of 23 candidates supported by the trainmen won.

Whitmyer denounced President Truman last May when the White House asked congress for a draft-strikers bill to end the railroad strike. He said he would spend $2,500,000 to defeat both Mr. Truman and congressmen who voted for the bill.

TWO PICKAWAY COUNTY WIVES SEEKING DIVORCES

Mrs. Pearl Eileen Julian filed suit for divorce in Pickaway county common pleas court, Wednesday, accusing Harvey B. Julian, Route 1, Laurelvile, of gross neglect of duty. Her petition, containing no details of the accusation, says they were married March 8, 1944 in Circleville. Mrs. Julian also asks for alimony and the custody of their 20-month-old daughter, Judith Ann. Mrs. Julian is a minor, and her petition was filed for her by her father, Pearl Brown.

In another divorce suit, filed Wednesday, Mrs. Ida M. Hyssell charges Clifford Hyssell, Orient, with gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. Declaring they were married May 12, 1944 in Meigs county and that they are childless, Mrs. Hyssell alleges her husband has failed to provide properly for her.

Airports of Future Seen As Recreation Centers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—Ohio, if it keeps pace with the estimated national upswing in airport construction, will have 233 civilian airports in the next decade instead of the current 138 and many will serve in the dual role of airport and recreation center, according to an analysis of building trends in airports made public today.

In a letter to authorities of various municipalities of the state contemplating airport construction, Frank Sohn, who completed the study for Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, declared that recreation centers, in the opinion of most aviation officials, offer the most effective means of assuring financial self-support for airports.

"Aviation activities alone cannot bear the full load of airport expense," he said. "Restaurants, beauty shops, bowling alleys, even newsreel theaters are well within the realm of airport activities."

Pointing out that taxpayers will match dollar for dollar the $11,774-192 to be allocated to the state under the federal aid program in order to construct new airports and improve existing fields, Sohn warned that because the spectator is a taxpayer and a potential air passenger or plane owner as well, ranks high in the factors to be considered in airport planning."

Architecturally, the trend in airport terminal building design is toward a functional type of structure that can be expanded as future needs arise, he said. Huge glass walls will furnish an unbroken view of field activities for visitors, he noted, a construction feature now more practical than ever with new double-glass insulating windowpanes which cut down heat losses through windows as much as 50 per cent and sharply reduce frost formation and condensation which might obscure vision.

Nationally, the survey showed, less than 20 per cent of the total of more than 3,000 airports are equipped with administration buildings while only 800 have office buildings. Almost half the counties in 48 states are without airport facilities of any kind, Sohn said.

Civic enterprise is the first step in establishing airports in sufficient number that all Americans may participate in the growth of aviation he declared. "But proper and adequate planning," he added, "to avoid the financial and structural pitfalls of past decades is more than ever essential."

Airports of Future Seen As Recreation Centers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—Ohio, if it keeps pace with the estimated national upswing in airport construction, will have 233 civilian airports in the next decade instead of the current 108 and many will serve in the dual role of airport and recreation center, according to an analysis of building trends in airports made public today.

In a letter to authorities of various municipalities of the state contemplating airport construction, Frank Sohn, who completed the study for Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, declared that recreation centers, in the opinion of most aviation officials, offer the most effective means of assuring financial self-support for airports.

"Aviation activities alone cannot bear the full load of airport expense," he said. "Restaurants, beauty shops, bowling alleys, even newsreel theaters are well within the realm of airport activities."

Pointing out that taxpayers will match dollar for dollar the $11,774,192 to be allocated to the state under the federal aid program in order to construct new airports and improve existing fields, Sohn warned that because the spectator "is a taxpayer and a potential air passenger or plane owner as well, he ranks high in the factors to be considered in airport planning."

Architecturally, the trend in airport terminal building design is toward a functional type of structure that can be expanded as future needs arise, he said. Huge glass walls will furnish an unbroken view of field activities for visitors, he noted, a construction feature now more practical than ever with new double-glass insulating windowpanes which cut down heat losses through windows as much as 50 per cent and sharply reduce frost formation and condensation which might obscure vision.

Nationally, the survey showed, less than 20 per cent of the total of more than 3,000 airports are equipped with administration buildings while only 800 have office buildings. Almost half the counties in 48 states are without airport facilities of any kind, Sohn said.

Civic enterprise is the first step in establishing airports in sufficient number that all Americans may participate in the growth of aviation he declared. "But proper and adequate planning," he added, "to avoid the financial and structural pitfalls of past decades is more than ever essential."

Phoenix, Ariz., was settled in 1870-75, and incorporated in 1881; the charter was revised again in 1893, and in 1913 the commission form of government was adopted.

REOPENING OF PEARL HARBOR PROBE POSSIBLE

Republicans May Make Many Investigations Now They Dominate Congress

BY JOHN L CUTTER
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Republican victory in the congressional elections raised the possibility today of another Pearl Harbor investigation and a search into the White House influence of the late Harry L. Hopkins during the Roosevelt regime.

Both house and senate, under Republican control when the 80th congress meets in January, are expected to launch special investigations into virtually every phase of Democratic administration for the last 14 years.

High on the agenda may be reopening of the Pearl Harbor investigation, conducted by a 10-man joint committee under Democratic control through late 1945 and early 1946, and a look into the influence of Hopkins on both the domestic and international scene.

Two Republican members of the Pearl Harbor committee—Sens. Homer Ferguson of Michigan and Owen Brewster of Maine—dissented from the majority report which exonerated the late President Roosevelt and his top military and political advisers in the Dec. 7, 1941, disaster.

Ferguson subsequently told the United Press that "the truth about Pearl Harbor never will be known until there is a Republican congress."

Any investigation of Hopkins' activities, on the basis of Republican complaints, probably would start with his administration of the lend-lease program.

It might be extended into a review of his participation with Mr. Roosevelt in international conferences and a search for "secret" foreign commitments which some Republicans contend were made in big three meetings at Yalta and Tehran.

Republican-sponsored investigations could be expected to write their own version of the nation's history under Democratic control. They could develop arguments for the Republican campaign to elect a GOP president in 1948.

The prime target probably would be the 12-year rule of Mr. Roosevelt. The shorter tenure of his successor, President Truman, would not go unchallenged, however.

The scope of probable Republican investigations was indicated by Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R., O.

"We will open every session of the house with a prayer and close it with a probe," he said. "We believe in the old gospel hymn, 'Let The Sunlight In.' The American people have a right to know how their money has been spent and how their government has been conducted. These things have not yet been completely exposed."

VA TRYING TO DISCOURAGE BIG HOUSING PRICES

COLUMBUS, O., November 7.—The Veterans Administration is placing greater emphasis on the supervision of appraisals in an effort to mitigate the inflationary effects of guaranteed GI loans upon the real estate market, George

C. Sturgeon, head of the loan guarantee service of the VA's Ohio-Michigan-Kentucky branch office here, said today.

Mr. Sturgeon pointed out that the loan provisions of the G. I. Bill require that realty appraisals be made at "reasonable value."

Although acknowledging that it was not intended to prevent rising realty prices, Mr.

Sturgeon said the VA's loan service policy is to attempt to act as a brake on prices of property purchased with GI loans for the protection of veterans, most of whom are inexperienced in the real este state field.

VA is emphasizing the careful selection of VA-designated appraisers by leading institutions. VA also is investigating appraisals and denying a loan guaranty when an appraisal is found to be above "reasonable value."

The loan guaranty benefits of the G. I. Bill have enabled more than 24,000 Ohio veterans to borrow over $135,000,000 from lending institutions, with the VA guaranteeing up to 50 per cent of the loans. More than 17,000 Michigan veterans have borrowed over $84,- 000,000, while 4,900 Kentucky veterans have borrowed more than $21,000,000.

VANDENBERG IN ADVISOR ROLE AT BIG 4 MEET

Republican Senator Now Has More Influence Than Ever With Byrnes

By R. H. SHACKFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., will resume his place at the side of Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in the big four council of foreign ministers, when that group meets again tomorrow, with even greater influence than he has wielded since the first of the year.

Ever since January, when Vandenberg demanded and obtained a greater voice in formulation as well as execution of a bi-partisan American foreign policy, the senator from Michigan has been a major influence on Byrnes.

Now that Vandenberg is almost certain to be the new chairman of the senate foreign relations committee which must ratify any treaties the big four agree upon at their meeting here, his voice will be even more influential in the preparation of the peace treaties.

Vandenberg also is being talked about as the new president problem of the senate—the office usually held by a vice president when the United States has one.

The big four foreign ministers are in recess until Friday afternoon when they will plunge into the much-argued dispute about Trieste—with the East trying to place that strategic trouble area within the Soviet sphere of influence, and the West struggling just as hard to keep it out. The foreign ministers long since have abandoned the nice sounding principle of ethnic frontiers as a basis for settlement of the area at the head of the Adriatic.

Byrnes had no appointments scheduled early today, but he and Bevin have agreed to talk about Palestine when the council is not involved with treaties. The 36-hour recess — to give Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov a chance to go to Washington to celebrate the Bolshevik revolution of 1917—will give them their first chance to talk on that issue.

The Byrnes-Bevin talks on Palestine probably will determine whether that trouble spot or whether—in the past—President Truman will do so directly with British Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

Byrnes is known to have been annoyed at Mr. Truman's "taking over" that issue, and even more so since the President was believed in many quarters to have bungled it recently with his statement to Attlee on the eve of Yom Kippur.

There was a general agreement among the men around Byrnes that there will be no change in American foreign policy as a result of the elections. Most guesses were that U. S. official attitude toward the Soviet Union may be more firm, because it is acknowledged that Vandenberg has been one of the leading exponents of what some call the last year's "get tough" policy.

The first specific issue faced by Byrnes in the light of the election victory for the Republicans is the framing of final peace treaties for Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland — the job on which the council of foreign ministers is working here.

Even if Byrnes were inclined to bargain or trade with the Soviets on the still disputed points of these treaties, he may find it considerably harder to do so on certain points because of Vandenberg's increased prestige and power in the ratifying body of congress.

The mountain of Lebanon, once famous for their cedars, are now quite bare, although a few groves remain.

VANDENBERG IN ADVISOR ROLE AT BIG 4 MEET

Republican Senator Now Has More Influence Than Ever With Byrnes

By R. H. SHACKFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., will resume his place at the side of Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in the big four council of foreign ministers, when that group meets again tomorrow, with even greater influence than he has wielded since the first of the year.

Ever since January, when Vandenberg demanded and obtained a greater voice in formulation as well as execution of a bi-partisan American foreign policy, the senator from Michigan has been a major influence on Byrnes.

Now that Vandenberg is almost certain to be the new chairman of the senate foreign relations committee which must ratify any treaties the big four agree upon at their meeting here, his voice will be even more influential in the preparation of the peace treaties.

Vandenberg also is being talked about as the new president problem of the senate—the office usually held by a vice president when the United States has one.

The big four foreign ministers are in recess until Friday afternoon when they will plunge into the much-argued dispute about Trieste—with the East trying to place that strategic trouble area within the Soviet sphere of influence, and the West struggling just as hard to keep it out. The foreign ministers long since have abandoned the nice sounding principle of ethnic frontiers as a basis for settlement of the area at the head of the Adriatic.

Byrnes had no appointments scheduled early today, but he and Bevin have agreed to talk about Palestine when the council is not involved with treaties. The 36-hour recess—to give Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov a chance to go to Washington to celebrate the Bolshevik revolution of 1917—will give them their first chance to talk on that issue.

The Byrnes-Bevin talks on Palestine probably will determine whether in the future Byrnes is to handle that trouble spot or whether—as in the past—President Truman will do so directly with British Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

Byrnes is known to have been annoyed at Mr. Truman's "taking over" that issue, and even more so since the President was believed in many quarters to have bungled it recently with his statement to Attlee on the eve of Yom Kippur.

There was a general agreement among the men around Byrnes that there will be no change in American foreign policy as a result of the elections. Most guesses were that U. S. official attitude toward the Soviet Union may be more firm, because it is acknowledged that Vandenberg has been one of the leading exponents of what some call the last year's "get tough" policy.

The first specific issue faced by Byrnes in the light of the election victory for the Republicans is the framing of final peace treaties for Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland—the job on which the council of foreign ministers is working here.

Even if Byrnes were inclined to bargain or trade with the Soviets on the still disputed points of these treaties, he may find it considerably harder to do so on certain points because of Vandenberg's increased prestige and power in the ratifying body of congress.

The mountain of Lebanon, once famous for their cedars, are now quite bare, although a few groves remain.

This makes up for a lot!

At long last you slip behind the wheel of your very own Buick.

You look around a minute—straighten your tie—grin a little at the handsome picture you know you must be making.

You turn the key. Step on the starter-treadle. Feel those eight big Fireball cylinders take silken hold.

Easy as a breeze, you slip away in two agile tons of steady-going levelness—and right then and there a lot that was dark is clear.

You see why this car is the most wanted automobile in America today.

You see why this doubles the problem posed by industry-wide slowness of parts and material flow.

You see why Buick production men are gladly putting every waking hour into ceaseless battle against such log-jams, so that they can supply these sweethearts to the greatest possible number.

You see how quickly a

CHRISTMAS CARDS

INDICATIONS are this is going to be the biggest year yet for Christmas cards. Already the stores are full of them. The variety and price is there to suit everyone. There is some trend to a religious nature, with reproductions of the manger scene and many copies of ancient paintings depicting the Holy Family. There are cards with traditional Christmas scenes—churches with carolers streaming into them, family feasts, much holly and mistletoe, plum puddings and bells. And of course there are the illustrations that have nothing whatever to do with Christmas—pictures of dogs and donkeys, clowns, kewpies like babies, pussy cats, boats, railroad trains and covered bridges.

The custom of sending Christmas cards is only a little over a century old. Authorities seem to think one of the first cards was created in England back in 1842 by a 16-year-old boy who drew sketches of a holiday banquet scene, some skaters and a Christmas pantomime. He added "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year", sent the cards to friends, and a vogue was born.

About the same time a man in Albany used similar cards to advertise a variety store that sold Christmas toys.

The Christmas card habit is thus a British-American innovation, though it has been embraced everywhere by followers of the Christian doctrine—and by some who are not. Though the cards have evolved far beyond the Christ child story, they do carry friends' greetings to friends. They have come to be an easy, pleasant method of remembrance, and as such they serve a fine purpose.

THE FACTS OF LIFE

IT may be that the people of this nation are overdoing, a little, our talk about the oft-declared need of "quantity production" and "consuming power." Of course we want to get along and live comfortably. But the fact is that we are right now living and eating and sleeping so much better than any other nation on earth, except perhaps Canada, that there is hardly any comparison.

Maybe what we need most is a spirit of humility, along with a more lively understanding of this present world with its baffling problems and bitter needs. Maybe we need to get a keener realization of what people in other lands are up against.

People tend to ignore such things when they are not close to them and lack understanding of many hard facts. But if it is really "one world," and if we are disposed to accept that view, most of us are hardly touching the current facts of modern life.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—Events always become fuzzy around election time but the one with the longest loose ends lately was the United Nations budget proposal—a budget presumably having nothing to do with the election. If the budget had been brushed over the wrong way with a razor blade, the fuzz could not have developed in a more puzzling way.

Out of a clear sky, the United Nations budget commission reported expenditures of a proposed $19,627,964 for 1946 and $23,900,008 for 1947 which may have been satisfactory if they needed the money (although Russia says not, and I do not know.) However that may be, the same commission reported that the United States pay about 50 percent of the costs $49.89 to be quite exact, although I cannot ascertain how they arrive at the 49 percent, much less the 89/100ths of a percent which seemed to be shaving matters closer than a Gallup poll cuts election figures.) Yet the assessments to Russia was proposed at exactly 6 percent (an amount which sounded more like interest than an assessment,) and Britain got off with 10.5 percent (mighty Britain with the world empire which Russia fears every day on its government owned radio and newspapers.) Even wartorn France, occupied and disrupted France, was to pay 5.50 percent and China 2.75 percent, leaving the whole rest of the world to pay half as much as the United States or 25 percent.

This was too much for Senator Vandenberg, who was polite enough about the matter, and even dropped a joke or two about some phases of it, although my information was he was seething inside. He may possibly have been seething at Mr. Truman's designation of his Republican colleague, Senator Austin, at the head of the United Nations delegation, who seemed to have let the UNA get far out of hand. Indeed I heard certain private hopes expressed in authoritative quarters as earnestly as a deep and sincere prayer, that State Secretary Byrnes was arriving for the big four meeting in New York in anticipation of the prospect that he would make some sense out of the affair. (Frankly mine was that Vandenberg was already there.)

The disturbing nonsense which had been too much for Vandenberg was this: everything was being done to appease Russia. The questions being taken up were those which Russia wanted in public discussion. She held back her veto—graciously, said many unknowing persons—to let UNA talk about her veto. It had been unanimously decided to talk about Spain, a subject Russia likes, she says, because it embodies the very essence of democracy, although no one said anything about talking about democracy in Russia. If there is a live question about democratic freedom of the individual in poverty ridden little Spain, the same question is certainly present in Russian occupied territories, say Poland for instance, or even in Rumania, with whom a treaty is being proposed—an unfinished treaty which actually makes that a live question.

In short, this world assembly in which Russia was to pay 6 per cent of the freight and Britain 10 per cent and the United

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . . Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Awake to a bright Republican sun, the first in some sixteen years. A majority of the American voters have asked for a change, have given, as the late Roosevelt once said, a mandate. Now, the question is whether or not the Republicans can deliver the goods. Maybe yes, maybe no. Of one thing, however, we are reasonably certain—the elimination of most of the federal restraints on business and even private life. We are hoping for the best.

Out and about the streets with everyone talking the election and politics. I tire easily when politics is the subject. I don't like politics and I don't like professional politicians. So, I skirted the election whenever possible. Saw Paul Betz and learned that he is the new district president of the South Central Ohio Elks, an honor bestowed at Newark. The office is elective and for one year. A very fine compliment to Paul and the lodge of which he is a member.

Came a procession of visitors, government representatives, salesmen and two newspapermen to bargain for equipment I soon am to replace. Made a prof-

exercise for a long, long time.

All of our leaders are in reasonable agreement on international affairs. The breach is over matters here at home. And that we are in a national mood few persons will dispute. If ever a political party faced a big problem it is the Republican party of today. The Republicans have control of Congress and because of that control and their many promises since the beginning of the New Deal they must deliver. And God be with them, and finally reach my proper level again.

In the afternoon with the temperature high and the sun still shining did go for a short ride in the country and then turned homeward for another evening of reasonable comfort. Met George chasing calves out of the alfalfa and learned that the young bull is ill. Broke out of his box stall the other night, broke open a dozen sacks of cement, scattered everything movable. Now, George fears he was dumb enough to eat some of the cement. I'm no farmer, but I don't think that would do him any good. Suggested blasting, but George took none too kindly to the suggestion. Thought he should call a vet. Probably a much better idea.

Stomach Block in a Newborn

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SOMETIMES, within a week or so after birth, babies will show an intolerance for food. No matter how hungry they may seem or with what relish they nurse, within a few hours they vomit all they have eaten. Mothers are likely to think that there is something wrong with the food to make it "disagree" with the baby, but doctors know that this condition is due to something entirely different—a thickening and contraction of the pyloric sphincter or the circular muscle that controls the opening between the stomach and the first part of the bowel.

This results in the condition known as pyloric stenosis in which the passageway between the stomach and bowel is blocked. Since food and fluids cannot get through into the intestine, where absorption into the tissues takes place, the baby undergoes gradual starvation along with dehydration or lack of fluid in the tissues, a combination which is likely to prove fatal if not corrected.

A New Treatment

Formerly pyloric stenosis was treated almost exclusively by operation and, while this gave good results in most cases, it also made for some danger. Now, Dr. Norman M. Jacoby of England has found that the disorder can be relieved medically in many instances by giving a medicine which will relax the sphincter muscle.

In carrying out the medical treatment, the amount of food given to the baby is reduced. Every possible effort should be made to get breast milk for the baby. A preparation known as atropine methyl nitrate is given by dropping it into the back of the baby's mouth 15 minutes before four of the feedings on the first day, and before three of the feedings on the second or third day. When the vomiting has stopped the preparation is given three times a week for about 16 weeks.

Time for Operation

If pyloric stenosis begins before the second week and the baby is severely dehydrated, operation should be performed. The operation is not done if the baby has some infection or diarrhea. Those cases treated medically by Dr. Jacoby were of the type whose symptoms begin in the fourth week or later, and in whom the vomiting has been continuous for several weeks before the baby is first seen.

Fifty patients treated according to this plan by Dr. Jacoby were all cured, and it would seem that his plan is a good one. In other words, every baby with pyloric stenosis should be treated medically if his condition is not too bad, before surgery is done.

When the vomiting has stopped the preparation is given three times a week for about 16 weeks.

Time for Operation

If pyloric stenosis begins before the second week and the baby is severely dehydrated, operation should be performed. The operation is not done if the baby has some infection or diarrhea. Those cases treated medically by Dr. Jacoby were of the type whose symptoms begin in the fourth week or later, and in whom the vomiting has been continuous for several weeks before the baby is first seen.

Fifty patients treated according to this plan by Dr. Jacoby were all cured, and it would seem that his plan is a good one. In other words, every baby with pyloric stenosis should be treated medically if his condition is not too bad, before surgery is done.

A New Treatment

Formerly pyloric stenosis was treated almost exclusively by operation and, while this gave good results in most cases, it also made for some danger. Now, Dr. Norman M. Jacoby of England has found that the disorder can be relieved medically in many instances by giving a medicine which will relax the sphincter muscle.

In carrying out the medical treatment, the amount of food given to the baby is reduced. Every possible effort should be made to get breast milk for the baby. A preparation known as atropine methyl nitrate is given by dropping it into the back of the baby's mouth 15 minutes before four of the feedings on the first day, and before three of the feedings on the second or third day. When the vomiting has stopped the preparation is given three times a week for about 16 weeks.

CHRISTMAS CARDS

INDICATIONS are this is going to be the biggest year yet for Christmas cards. Already the stores are full of them. The variety and price is there to suit everyone. There is some trend to a religious nature, with reproductions of the manger scene and many copies of ancient paintings depicting the Holy Family. There are cards with traditional Christmas scenes—churches with carolers streaming into them, family feasts, much holly and mistletoe, plum puddings and bells. And of course there are the illustrations that have nothing whatever to do with Christmas—pictures of dogs and donkeys, clowns, kewpies like babies, pussy cats, boats, railroad trains and covered bridges.

The custom of sending Christmas cards is only a little over a century old. Authorities seem to think one of the first cards was created in England back in 1842 by a 16-year-old boy who drew sketches of a holiday banquet scene, some skaters and a Christmas pantomime. He added "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year", sent the cards to friends, and a vogue was born.

About the same time a man in Albany used similar cards to advertise a variety store that sold Christmas toys.

The custom of sending Christmas cards is thus a British-American innovation, though it has been embraced everywhere by followers of the Christian doctrine—and by some who are not. Though the cards have evolved far beyond the Christ child story, they do carry friends' greetings to friends. They have come to be an easy, pleasant method of remembrance, and as such they serve a fine purpose.

THE FACTS OF LIFE

IT may be that the people of this nation are overdoing, a little, our talk about the oft-declared need of "quantity production" and "consuming power." Of course we want to get along and live comfortably. But the fact is that we are right now living and eating and sleeping so much better than any other nation on earth, except perhaps Canada, that there is hardly any comparison.

Maybe what we need most is a spirit of humility, along with a more lively understanding of this present world with its baffling problems and bitter needs. Maybe we need to get a keener realization of what people in other lands are up against.

People tend to ignore such things when they are not close to them and lack understanding of many hard facts. But if it is really "one world," and if we are disposed to accept that view, most of us are hardly touching the current facts of modern life.

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . . Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Awake to a bright Republican sun, the first in some sixteen years. A majority of the American voters have asked for a change, have given, as the late Roosevelt once said, a mandate. Now, the question is whether or not the Republicans can deliver the goods. Maybe yes, maybe no. Of one thing, however, we are reasonably certain—the elimination of most of the federal restraints on business and even private life. We are hoping for the best.

For some sixteen years the Republicans have devoted their entire time to destructive criticism. That their criticism in most internal cases was justified the public is just beginning to realize. Now, the scrivener along with the rest of the public, will watch with keen interest and bated breath as the Republicans map their chart of progress. Have they been "hindisghters" so long that it is impossible for them to be "foresighters"? Have they been destructive so long that it will be difficult for them to be constructive? Not too much intelligence is required for criticism, so Republican intelligence has had none too much exercise for a long, long time.

All of our leaders are in reasonable agreement on international affairs. The breach is over matters here at home. And that we are in a national muddle few persons will dispute. If ever a political party faced a big problem it is the Republican party of today. The Republicans have control of Congress and because of that control and their many promises since the beginning of the New Deal they must deliver. And God be with them, for they will need Him.

Out and about the streets with everyone talking the election and politics. I tire easily when politics is the subject. I don't like politics and I don't like professional politicians. So, I skirted the election whenever possible. Saw Paul Betz and learned that he is the new district president of the South Central Ohio Elks, an honor bestowed at Newark. The office is elective and for one year. A very fine compliment to Paul and the lodge of which he is a member.

itable sale and then headed back uptown to buy myself a congratulatory cup of coffee. Side-tracked a Britanica salesman much to my surprise, for I know no one who could use that set to greater advantage. I dislike the set because it always encourages my inferiority complex. Every time I feel myself getting too big for my pants I turn to the ancient Britanica in my office, read for half an hour, arrive at the conclusion I am one of the world's dumbest men and finally reach my proper level again.

In the afternoon with the temperature high and the sun still ashine did go for a short ride in the country and then turned homeward for another evening of reasonable comfort. Met George chasing calves out of the alfalfa and learned that the young bull is ill. Broke out of his box stall the other night, broke open a dozen sacks of cement, scattered everything movable. Now, George fears he was dumb enough to eat some of the cement. I'm no farmer, but I don't think that would do him any good. Suggested blasting, but George took none too kindly to the suggestion. Thought he should call a vet. Probably a much better idea.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—Events always become fuzzy around election time but the one with the longest loose ends lately was the United Nations budget proposal—a budget presumably having nothing to do with the election. If the budget had been brushed over the wrong way with a razor blade, the fuzz could not have developed in a more puzzling way.

Out of a clear sky, the United Nations budget commission reported expenditures of a proposed $19,627,964 for 1946 and $23,790,008 for 1947 which may have been satisfactory if they needed the money (although Russia says not, and I do not know.) However that may be, the same commission reported that the United States pay about 50 percent of the costs, $49.89 to be quite exact, although I cannot ascertain how they arrive at the 49 percent, much less the 89/100ths of a percent which seemed to be shaving matters closer than a Gallup poll cuts election figures.) Yet the assessments to Russia was proposed at exactly 6 percent (an amount which sounded more like interest than an assessment,) and Britain got off with 10.5 percent (mighty Britain with the world empire which Russia fears every day on its government owned radio and newspapers.) Even wartorn France, occupied and disrupted France, was to pay 5.50 percent and China 2.75 percent, leaving the whole rest of the world to pay half as much as the United States or 25 percent.

This was too much for Senator Vandenberg, who was polite enough about the matter, and even dropped a joke or two about some phases of it, although my information was he was seething inside. He may possibly have been seething at Mr. Truman's designation of his Republican colleague, Senator Austin, at the head of the United Nations delegation, who seemed to have let the UNA get far out of hand. Indeed I heard certain private hopes expressed in authoritative quarters as earnestly as a deep and sincere prayer, that State Secretary Byrnes was arriving for the big four meeting in New York in anticipation of the prospect that he would make some sense out of the affair. (Frankly mine was that Vandenberg was already there.)

The disturbing nonsense which had been too much for Vandenberg was this: everything was being done to appease Russia. The questions being taken up were those which Russia wanted in public discussion. She held back her veto—graciously, said many unknowing persons—to let UNA talk about her veto. It had been unanimously decided to talk about Spain, a subject Russia likes, she says, because it embodies the very essence of democracy, although no one said anything about talking about democracy in Russia. If there is a live question about democratic freedom of the individual in poverty ridden little Spain, the same question is certainly present in Russian occupied territories, say Poland for instance, or even in Rumania, with whom a treaty is being proposed—an unfinished treaty which actually makes that a live question.

In short, this world assembly in which Russia was to pay 6 per cent of the freight and Britain 10 per cent and the United

Stomach Block in a Newborn

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SOMETIMES, within a week or so after birth, babies will show an intolerance for food. No matter how hungry they may seem or with what relish they nurse, within a few hours they vomit all they have eaten. Mothers are likely to think that there is something wrong with the food to make it "disagree" with the baby, but doctors know that this condition is due to something entirely different—a thickening and contraction of the pyloric sphincter or the circular muscle that controls the opening between the stomach and the first part of the bowel.

This results in the condition known as pyloric stenosis in which the passage between the stomach and bowel is blocked. Since food and fluids cannot get through into the intestine, where absorption into the tissues takes place, the baby undergoes gradual starvation along with dehydration or lack of fluid in the tissues, a combination which is likely to prove fatal if not corrected.

A New Treatment

Formerly pyloric stenosis was treated almost exclusively by operation, and while this gave good results in most cases, it also made for some danger. Now, Dr. Norman M. Jacoby of England has found that the disorder can be relieved medically in many instances by giving a medicine which will relax the sphincter muscle.

In carrying out the medical treatment, the amount of food given to the baby is reduced. Every possible effort should be made to get breast milk for the baby. A preparation known as atropine methyl nitrate is given by dropping it into the back of the baby's mouth 15 minutes before four of the feedings on the first day, and before three of the feedings on the second or third day. When the vomiting has stopped the preparation is given three times a week for about 16 weeks.

Time for Operation

If pyloric stenosis begins before the second week and the baby is severely dehydrated, operation should be performed. The operation is not done if the baby has some infection or diarrhea. Those cases treated medically by Dr. Jacoby were of the type whose symptoms begin in the fourth week or later, and in whom the vomiting has been continuous for several weeks before the baby is first seen.

Fifty patients treated according to this plan by Dr. Jacoby were all cured, and it would seem that his plan is a good one. In other words, every baby with pyloric stenosis should be treated medically if his condition is not too bad, before surgery is done.

The Rev. G. L. Troutman Honored On Anniversary

Friends Surprise Trinity Pastor At Dinner

The home of the Rev. George L. Troutman, East Mound street, was the scene of a surprise covered dish dinner Thursday evening. The event was planned in honor of the birthday anniversary of the Rev. Mr. Troutman, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church.

Games were played during the evening.

Those present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Gladwin Troutman and children, Johnny, David and Norma Ruth; Mrs. Richard Fellmeth, Mr. and Mrs. John Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norman and children Judy, Dianne and Roberta; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hedges, and children Carolyn, Eddy and Tommy; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Walters and daughters Mary and Lois; Donald Walters, Miss Lottie Walters, Mrs. Harley Cline, Miss Mabel Cline and Mrs. Troutman, George, Joyce and Ruth.

MRS. DREISBACH ENTERTAINS FOR MRS. WOODSIDE

Mrs. Orin Dreisbach, Pickaway township, entertained at her home Tuesday evening in honor of the 85th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Emma D. Woodside. Mrs. E. O. Crites was assisting hostess for the affair.

Mrs. Woodside who has made her home with Mrs. Crites for the last year is leaving Sunday for her new home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shaw, Dayton. The party was also arranged as a farewell celebration for Mrs. Woodside.

Refreshments were served in the dining room where the table was centered with white chrysanthemums and pink snap dragons and lighted by pink tapers. Mrs. Woodside served her birthday cake and Mrs. D. H. Dreisbach, Kingston, presided at the tea service.

Guests for the occasion were Mrs. H. G. Linke and Mrs. Ludwig Linke, Columbus; Mrs. D. H. Dreisbach and Miss Ora Rittenour, Kingston; Mrs. H. D. Jackson, Mrs. David Jackson, Mrs. Eva Dreisbach, Mrs. Jennie Nauman, Mrs. McClure Hughes, Mrs. Hildburn Jones, Jr., and Mrs. Franklin Crites.

Miss Stein Hostess To Past Chief's Club

Past Chief's club of the Pythian sisters met Thursday evening in the Chicken Inn with Miss Ethel Stein acting as hostess. Following dinner the guests went to Miss Steins' home, North Court street.

A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Turney Glick, who presided during the absence of Mrs. G. M. Newton, president. Fifteen members were present for the session and it was decided to have a Christmas party December 4 at the Chicken Inn.

At the close of the meeting contests were enjoyed.

DEMO MACHINES NEED REPAIRS AFTER ELECTION

Kelly, Pendegast Groups
Handed Worst Beatings
By Republicans

BY FRED MULLEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Nov. 7—A number of old-line Democratic political machines, long the big-time vote producers in key states, were in need of a repair job today.

Only one of the major local machines, the Crump organization in Tennessee, emerged from Tuesday's elections without serious damage from the Republican onslaught.

The Pendegast machine in Missouri, the Kelly organization in Chicago, and the Hague machine in New Jersey all took beatings from the GOP.

Even the Tammany machine in Manhattan suffered dents and scratches.

The Republicans slugged the Kelly machine at a time when its 71-year-old chieftain, Mayor Edward J. Kelly, was recovering from an illness.

The GOP grabbed important county posts and appeared to have left Kelly with only two choices for the future—either to seek re-election next year to initiate a comeback, or to retire from the machine's leadership and leave control to a hand-picked successor.

Illinois' Republican Gov. Dwight H. Green attributed the victory over the Kelly machine to its own "ruthless" rule and to the "folly" of the Truman administration in Washington.

Tammany chieftains, claim after the defeat administered to Sen. James M. Mead by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, sought to console themselves with having won a seat in the state senate. The candidate was Francis J. Mahoney, who also had ALP backing.

In New Jersey, the machine run by Jersey City Mayor Frank Hague was at the lowest level of power in its quarter-century history. It was successful only in two contests, the reelection of U. S. Reps. Mary T. Norton and Edward J. Hart.

The New Jersey machine began losing its prestige when Democratic former Gov. Charles Edison broke with Hague in 1941. After what happened Tuesday, it was evident that only Jersey City and Hudson county remained in Hague's grip. The GOP swept sent Alfred E. Driscoll into the governorship and returned H. Alexander Smith to the U. S. senate.

In Missouri, the Pendegast machine, which had helped Mr. Truman defeat Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, bitter anti-administration Democrat, in his bid for renomination, failed to carry the election for the President's candidate, Enos A. Axtell.

Axtell was defeated by Republican Albert L. Reeves.

Among the lesser Democratic organizations to suffer was that of Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh who saw veteran new deal Sen. Joseph F. Guffey, D., beaten for re-election.

Another Pet Dog Rescued
By President Of Newly
Organized Group

As a result of the kindly treatment accorded a lost dog after it had been run down by an automobile on North Court street, and the restoration of the pet to its Circleville owner, the newly organized Pickaway County Humane Society—and particularly its president Ralph Wallace—were being highly praised Thursday by citizens who learned the facts.

The male black and white cocker spaniel owned by Miss Eleanor Jones strayed from her home on Park place onto the pavement of North Court street.

Following the accident police notified Wallace. He went to the scene, picked up the injured canine, and took it to the office of Dr. F. P. Dunlap, veterinarian, 454 North Court street, for medical aid. A short time afterward Miss Jones, apprised of what had happened, called at the veterinarian's establishment and claimed the dog.

The Humane Society was organized a few months ago and officers were elected. Application for a charter as an Ohio non-profit corporation was filed with state officials at Columbus but the charter has not yet been received.

When the charter arrives and the organization begins functioning as a group it is probable the

In New Jersey, the machine run by Jersey City Mayor Frank Hague was at the lowest level of power in its quarter-century history. It was successful only in two contests, the reelection of U. S. Reps. Mary T. Norton and Edward J. Hart.

The New Jersey machine began losing its prestige when Democratic former Gov. Charles Edison broke with Hague in 1941. After what happened Tuesday, it was evident that only Jersey City and Hudson County remained in Hague's grip. The GOP swept sent Alfred E. Driscoll into the governorship and returned H. Alexander Smith to the U. S. senate.

In Missouri, the Pendleton machine, which had helped Mr. Truman defeat Rep. Roger C. Slaughter, bitter anti-administration Democrat, in his bid for re-nomination, failed to carry the election for the President's candidate, Enoch A. Axtell.

Axtell was defeated by Republican Albert L. Reeves.

Among the lesser Democratic organizations to suffer was that of Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh who saw veteran new deal Sen. Joseph F. Guffey, D., beaten for re-election.

HUMANE SOCIETY OFFICER GETS PUBLIC PRAISE

Another Pet Dog Rescued
By President Of Newly
Organized Group

As a result of the kindly treatment accorded a lost dog after it had been run down by an automobile on North Court street, and the restoration of the pet to its Circleville owner, the newly organized Pickaway County Humane Society—and particularly its president Ralph Wallace—were highly praised Thursday by citizens who learned the facts.

The male black and white cocker spaniel owned by Miss Eleanor Jones strayed from her home on Park place onto the pavement of North Court street.

Following the accident police notified Wallace. He went to the scene, picked up the injured canine, and took it to the office of Dr. F. P. Dunlap, veterinarian, 454 North Court street, for medical aid. A short time afterward Miss Jones, apprised of what had happened, called at the veterinarian's establishment and claimed the dog.

The Humane Society was organized a few months ago and officers were elected. Application for a charter as an Ohio non-profit corporation was filed with state officials at Columbus but the charter has not yet been received.

When the charter arrives and the organization begins functioning as a group it is probable the

CHS SQUAD AT FULL STRENGTH FOR LAST GAME

Tigers Leave Here At 5:30 To Go To Washington C. H. For SCO Contest

Circleville high school Tigers are all "pepped up" for their final football game of the season Friday night at Washington C. H. and even Thursday's dismal rain refused to dampen their spirits as they make final preparations for the South Central Ohio league contest.

Two hard scrimmages have been held this week with the whole squad, including all the "cripples" taking part. Back in shape is Charles Thomas who suffered fractured collarbone several weeks ago. Also in good shape is Rod Heine and all the other boys who have been bothered by injuries.

Return of the injured backs will give the team added strength. Coach Steve Brudzinski plans to start Bob Steele, Rod Heine "Red" Crawford and Jim Carter in the backfield. Available as replacements will be Thomas, Jack Stout, Harold Hill and Bob Ferguson.

Thursday's rain promised to be the Washington C. H. gridiron a sea of mud but the Tigers and their coaching staff were not worrying too much about that. Of course, they would like to play one game on a dry field but they have proved themselves good mudgers. They have shown well in rain and last week defeated Grove City in a heavy drizzle. And there is a good chance that rain Thursday may mean there will be none Friday night.

The Tigers will be facing a heavy team Friday night but they are used to meeting larger foes. They plan to rely on speed and hard charging to try their best to score a victory in the final game of the season and the last for several members of the squad in CHS football uniforms.

Heine, Steele, Thomas, Carter, Captain John Fissell, Bob McCoy, Stout, Ed Webb, Tom Pettit and Floyd Happenny are seniors.

Coach Brudzinski said Thursday he plans to start his regular lineup of Fissell and Dean Smallwood, ends; McCoy and Ronnie Hennis, guards; Webb, center; Charles Sabine and Fred Cupp, tackles with Heine, Carter and Crawford in the backfield.

Facing the Tigers probably will be these Blue Lions: Grinnan and Sager, ends; Scott and Bellar, tackles; Van Meter and Hughes, guards; Merritt, center; Denton, Kelley, E. Sager and Branton, backs.

The CHS squad will leave the high school about 5:30 p. m. in a Greyhound bus. Plans call for the boys to return here right after the game to eat at Betz restaurant.

BIG CAR RACES SLATED SUNDAY AT FAIRGROUNDS

Speed fans of this section will have their last opportunity of 1946 to see the big car auto speedsters in action at the Ohio State Fairgrounds at Columbus, Sunday afternoon.

Many outstanding speed stars of the mid-west will appear on the card including Mike Salay of South Bend, Ind.; Bob Simpson of Marion; Wally Stokes of Cleveland; Don Carr of Jackson, Mich.; Earl Tharp of Detroit; Fred Tegemeier of Elgin, Ill.; Carl Scarborough of Keego Harbor, Mich.; Red Bales of Columbus and Clay Corbett of Dayton.

There will be a general convention of the nation's best drivers assembled on the State Fairgrounds course, in fact far more than will be eligible to fill the fields in the six competitive events, according to Harry Robby, supervisor of the speed program.

Qualifying trials will start at 12 noon, with the first racing event scheduled for 2 p. m.

Wind is said to be far more important than temperature to the cooling of the body.

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO

When Singer Marilyn Maxwell is faced with eviction, she takes her troubles to Abbott and Costello and do they fix things up in the Thursday, broadcast at 10 p.m. The plot for this laugh riot involves an interior decorator, a man who carries a little black box, and some assorted minor felonies. Marilyn forgets her troubles long enough to sing "Connecticut" and Maestro Skinner Ennis also does some vocalizing.

DENNIS DAY SHOW

Dennis has his Day as Weaver's All-American football player during a broadcast of the new program, "A Day In The Life of Dennis Day," over NBC on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. EST. The trouble starts when Dennis, who jerks sodas in Mr. Willoughby's drug store, unknowingly sells the local coach an historic pigskin which was used in the only game Weaver ever won from Middlefield. That was back in 1916. When Day turns gridiron gladiator, the football game, of course, ends up with the usual Dennis results.

MURDER STORY

The famous comedy star of the screen, Jack Carson, essays a new type of role when he headlines radio's "thrills," Thursday, at 8 p.m. in a story of "Suspense" titled "Easy Money." Carson will portray a musician who plans to murder his wife in order to be free to marry again. After setting the stage for his wife to poison herself unknowingly, he discovers that she tries out all food on her pet parrot, before eating it. However, by a surprise twist, she does die—and her mysterious demise leads to an amazing climax.

FINNEGAN VOTED

Finnegan proves to be a triple-threat man when he becomes involved in politics and manages to vote three times in the comedy broadcast, "That's Finnegan,"

Thursday, at 10:30 p.m. The over-enthusiasm of Finnegan, played by Frank McHugh, leads to an attack of conscience and he finally gives himself up to the district attorney.

DICK HAYMES SHOW

A lot of deep-South talk will be kickin' around "The Dick Haymes Show," Thursday, over CBS, when Haymes and his petite singing partner, Helen Forrest, share the burlesque lyrics of Tom Adair's west-pocket musical comedy, "Oh Susanna," (9 p.m. EST). Lurene Tuttle, veteran radio actress, is scheduled to support The Baritone in another of their warm and human dramatic vignettes built around "Let's Fall In Love." Haymes will return to the mike with his vocal of "And Then It's Heaven."

MUSIC HALL

Edgar Bergen and his "enfant terrible," Charlie McCarthy, will be the guests on the Kraft Music Hall, Thursday, at 9 P.M. (EST) over NBC. "Bad Boy" McCarthy and his creator will be welcomed to the program by Emcee Eddy Duchin and program regulars Edward Everett Horton, the King Cole

Trio, Milena Miller and Russ Case and his orchestra. Today when the housing shortage is probably the worst problem on the modern American scene, Charlie McCarthy, too, complains that he hasn't any place to live. The fearful splinter is still peevish at his guardian because he was recently forced to give up his room—once known as "McCarthy's Inner Sanctum"—to make a nursery for Bergen's infant daughter, Candace.

FOOTBALL

Jim Breull, owner of the Buffalo Bisons of the All America Conference, is the guest of Eddie Dooley as the esp sports and football prognosticator reviews the weekly football picture and forecasts of the outcome of the leading professional and college games on his MBS broadcast, Thursday, (10:10-15 p.m. EST).

MUSIC HALL

A steel gear may weigh less than a quarter of an ounce for a fine watch, or 10,000 pounds for a big ship, but no matter what its size, the gear must be machined accurately, to a 10,000th of an inch. Any flaw in a gear shows up almost instantly when it is put in use.

One Minute Test Answers

- What tropical tree is the source of chocolate?
- What department of the U.S. has to do with immigration affairs?
- Why is the southern end of New York City called The Battery?

Hints on Etiquette

Refreshments are usually served at the bride's home to the bridal party after the wedding rehearsal, or the groom may, if he wishes, give a little party at the hotel or club.

Words of Wisdom

If poverty is the mother of crimes, want of sense is the father of them.—Bruyere.

Today's Horoscope

You should learn to restrain your impetuous nature. You are quick-tempered and jump to conclusions hastily. Your judgment is good and usually right if you take time to give it due consideration. You are a jovial and fun-loving person, and are popular with your acquaintances. Your love is apt to be tempestuous. Be careful of what you say today, as friendship might be lost through harsh words. You may be asked to devote some time to help a co-worker, collaborator, or neighbor. Don't be cross if you are called upon to sacrifice some time for the sake of someone else. Chip in. The moon enters Taurus at 11:46 p.m.

One Minute Test Answers

- The cacao tree.
- The department of justice.
- Because of the old forts that once stood there.

Boxing was one of the competitions at the ancient Olympic games. Vergili speaks of it.

CITY, COUNTY OFFICERS JOIN KIDNAPER HUNT

Wide Search Still On For Man In Connection With Kidnaps

Pickaway county law-enforcement officers Thursday were maintaining a close watch in the hope of apprehending a 23-year-old man who was one of two charged with kidnapping two women, Sunday, in the Columbus area.

The search for the abductor was being conducted in several counties in central and southern Ohio, and Sheriff Charles Radcliff and his deputies, and Circleville Police Chief William F. McCrady and his officers have joined in the hunt.

Bexley police claim that John W. DeWeese, 22, of 1912 East Rich street, now in custody, was one of the kidnappers, and that the second man who eluded capture, is a former inmate of the Boys' Industrial School, Lancaster, whose mother lives at Amanda.

It has been considered possible that the fugitive may be hiding somewhere in Pickaway county.

DeWeese, married and the father of three children, was ordered held by the grand jury by Mayor William A. Schneider at Bexley, Tuesday, after DeWeese pleaded innocent to charges of kidnapping, armed robbery, and automobile theft in connection with the abduction of a Bexley housewife.

Bexley police claim DeWeese confessed that he and his 23-year-old companion abducted Mrs. Morgan C. Penn, Bexley, and Mrs. Alice Eggleston, Springfield, and the latter's 4-year-old daughter. DeWeese was placed under $8,000 bond which he was unable to furnish.

After Mrs. Penn had escaped from her captors the two men drove north from Columbus, kidnapped Mrs. Eggleston and her small daughter, and released them near Springfield, police said.
